Community Arts Day

We had planned to hold our Community Arts Day today but sadly due to the current lockdown we are not able to hold it in school. We love nothing more than seeing families enjoying the arts together on our Community Arts Days so we have come up with an art project we hope you can all enjoy together at home.

With World Book Day around the corner we would like to invite families to listen to Captain Sir Tom Moore reading from his book 'One Hundred Steps'. Click here to watch:

When asked by his Grandson Benjie what message he would like to give to boys and girls, Sir Captain Tom Moore replies "remember, tomorrow is a good day". This is such an inspirational message that has given hope to us all living through this pandemic and we have chosen to use this message as the theme for this year's Community Arts Day.

Having each other has never been so important and we hope this activity will inspire you to reflect on the positive times you have shared together as a family and a reminder of the brighter days that are ahead of us.

We would like for you to reflect on the time you have spent together as family in lockdown and create a family portrait. This is an opportunity for all members of the family to get creative and enjoy producing your own piece of art work.

You can use ANY media (pencils, crayons, pastels, paint, collage etc.) to create your artwork, the most important thing is to have fun! You can send in the final piece when we return to school or send a photo by email which will be added to our online Art Gallery.

"For all those of you finding it difficult, the sun will shine on you again and the clouds will go away. Remember, tomorrow will be a good day."
