

Community Arts Day

Saturday 3rd July 2021

Due to Covid restrictions we are unable to host our summer Community Arts Day in school so we would like to invite you to take part at home.

Whilst you're out and about this weekend have a go at using natural materials to make your own land art. Whether you're playing in your garden, walking in the park or visiting the beach we hope you enjoy creating art as a family and we look forward to seeing your Andy Goldsworthy style land art.

Please email pictures of your artwork to mrsjackson@stbedesinfants.co.uk or feel free to upload them to our school Twitter page.

Community Arts Day

Land Art

Saturday 3rd July 2021

Our Community Arts Day has been inspired by the artist Andy Goldsworthy. He is an English sculptor, photographer, and environmentalist who makes sculptures with natural materials. He has made them in forests, fields, cities, lakes and fields and they are known as land art. His work makes us think about the world around us and how art can be found in nature.

Here are some natural materials you may use for your land art:

- leaves
- twigs
- pebbles
- rocks
- ice
- flowers
- grass
- pine cones
- shells

Examples of Andy Goldsworthy's land art

Community Arts Day

Saturday 3rd July 2021

Enjoy spending time outside with your family exploring the natural materials around you. What will you use to create your land art?

Please email pictures of your artwork to mrsjackson@stbedesinfants.co.uk or feel free to upload them to our school Twitter page.